

Exchange Students Tell Of Life In Strange Country

Two Foreign Exchange students now attending Waukegan High School told Antioch Community High School students some of their experiences in a strange land and some of the details of the Exchange program for students in two assemblies at the High School Tuesday morning.

The program was sponsored by the Antioch High School Student Council, who are trying to rally support for their plans to attempt to sponsor a foreign student to attend Antioch High School.

PUPILS AT ANTIOCH HIGH SCHOOL heard about the Student Exchange Program from two students from far-away lands Tuesday. Ranjit Limaye, from India; Arleen Solarsh, Johannesburg, South Africa; Kurt Kealey, and Bob Barnett, members of the Student Council of Waukegan High School; Tammi Pickus, with whose family Arleen lives, and Jerry Berke, president of Antioch High's Student Council.

Students Speak On The Challenge Of Citizenship

The essay written by the second place winner, Stanley Sutherland, in the Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is reproduced here. Last week we printed the essay written by first-place winner Jeff Ryan. Next week we will print the essay of the third place winner, Lloyd Pedersen.

CHALLENGE OF CITIZENSHIP

By Stanley Sutherland
What does it mean to be a citizen of the United States? To some people it means being able to vote on election day. To others it means having to pay taxes. No matter which specific meaning is used for citizenship, we should all realize that being an American involves not only benefits from, but also duties to, the government. Only by taking an active part in civic affairs can we preserve our rights and thus meet the challenge of citizenship.

An American citizen, probably has more rights than any other individual in the world. He is free to speak, worship, and write as he pleases as long as he does not infringe on the rights of others. The constitution protects him from every imaginable act of government that would be unjust or arbitrary. In criminal cases he is judged innocent until proven guilty. His privacy cannot be arbitrarily invaded, nor can he be forced to incriminate himself. The government is forbidden to deny him these and other rights without due process of law.

Indeed, it would seem on the surface that American citizens are so safe from injustice that all they have to do is sit back and enjoy their rights. Unfortunately, though, it's not that easy. The Constitution, as awe-inspiring as it may be in its protection of human individualism, is only a scrap of paper—an inanimate object that cannot enforce itself. Without just men to carry out its principles and protect its ideas, the Constitution is worthless. Therefore, it is important that the people's elected representatives be fair and competent. It is the responsibility of the citizens of the United States to see that their representatives are performing well, for our freedoms are only as strong as the men who enforce them.

The duty of a citizen does not, however, stop with electing the right officials. Our forefathers preserved our right to hold opinions because they knew that a democracy could not exist without the active political participation of the people. When we elect a man to the Presidency of the United States, we want and expect him to be interested in domestic and foreign affairs, be well-informed, and be wise in his judgment. What many people fail to realize is that a citizen must have these same attributes if he is to take the place in government left for him by the Founding Fathers. Our representatives can only do what they think we want, and if we don't let them know what we want, they can only guess. In matters as serious as the governing of the United States, guessing will hardly do.

What, then, could be the consequences if no one in the United States took an active interest in government? First of all, no wise decisions could be reached. With no one to voice the other side of an issue or support a differing belief, government would make judgments on faulty, incomplete information. The benefits of new proposals would not have to be proved, because no one would contest them. Taking advantage of this situation, a few corrupt men could gradually usurp the rights of citizens, and the government would gain more power. If this process were left unchecked, the government might eventually become a dictatorship, and democracy—that system of government for which so many gave their lives—would be lost.

On the other hand, we might suppose that the opposite results would materialize. Perhaps the national government would be so weakened by lack of popular support that its decisions would be meaningless. The size and power of the government would dwindle, and fewer restraints would be put on the people. Although this may sound good at first, we soon realize that infringement of rights would develop not on the part of the government, but on the part of other citizens. In addition, the government might become so weak as to be a push-over for aggressive power like the Soviet Union. Here again, democracy would be lost.

By now it should be obvious what the challenge of citizenship is. As Americans it is our duty to consider both sides of pressing issues, form opinions, and voice those opinions. It is our duty to support the national government by taking an active part in governmental affairs as well as by paying our taxes. A right which is not exercised weakens until it vanishes, and each time a right vanishes, democracy dies a little more. Keeping democracy alive is the challenge of citizenship, and only by meeting this challenge can we become true citizens.

Many a molehill can be made into a mountain by constantly adding some dirt.

Arleen Solarsh, from Johannesburg, South Africa, had a precise and very English accent, but still experienced difficulties in ordering food because of the difference in meaning of some terms. "Jelly" in South Africa, says Arleen, refers to Jello.

Requirements for the "adoption" of a Foreign Exchange Student are (1) Financial responsibility to the extent of at least $600.00. (2) Find a suitable home with someone willing to "adopt" the student for his or her stay in this country.

Both the foreign and Waukegan students stressed the pleasure and knowledge they have gained through daily association with students from other countries.

To Receive D.A.R. Award

Miss Leone Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myrus Nelson, 1054 Victoria Street, Antioch, has been selected by her senior classmates and teachers as the 1964 Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Girl.

Leone Nelson

The aim of the D.A.R. project is to pay tribute to youthful character and to call attention to the following qualities of desirable good citizenship: dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Lee has been active in school clubs, has been a cheerleader for four years and served as co-captain her junior year. The Girls' Athletic Association has occupied much of her time. Lee received the G.A.A. All-Star award as a junior.

She has served for four years on the executive board of her class and four years as an active member of the Pep Club. She was also a participant in the junior year of the Spanish Club and the Junior Prom Court.

Lee's hobbies are sewing and horseback riding. She has served as a life guard at the Antioch Aqua Center.

She plans to attend Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa, upon graduation, to prepare for primary teaching.

January 31 Deadline For Aliens

John M. Lehmann, District Director of the Chicago District of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, is again reminding all aliens to report their addresses no later than January 31.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted to one of these offices.

Aliens or guardians must submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age. Lehmann urges all aliens to report before the end of January as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

Local School Boards Find Opposition To Tax Raise Strong

Grass Lake School Vote On Saturday

Local schools, faced with the need for more money, are meeting stubborn resistance from voters to any tax raise.

Grass Lake School board is calling for another vote on a referendum to build a gym and additional classrooms, a referendum which suffered a narrow defeat a short time ago.

Channel Lake School voters refused to OK a hike in the educational tax for that school, despite pleas by the board that the income of the school was totally inadequate to meet expenses. Here, the referendum was defeated almost 2-to-1, but only a small portion of the eligible voters showed up at the polls.

Frank Kennedy On WKRS

By Del Jahneke

Frank Kennedy, Jr., president of the Lake County Blind Association, and Mrs. Veronica Epping, secretary, Mrs. W. Fuller, mother of a blind 18 year old daughter, and two readers (persons who read articles, books, etc., to blind people) participated in the WKRS radio program "Viewpoint" on Thursday, January 23.

They discussed their first feelings of depression and sadness, the tremendous adjustments that they and their families had to make, and finally, their satisfaction as they discover that they are able to accomplish more achievements daily.

The Lake County Blind Association meets once a month, and each time, it is in a different area of the county. They do this purposely to draw the blind persons in each vicinity to join their association. They will meet in the VFW hall in Libertyville, on February 9. Their organization is chartered by the state of Illinois.

The government sends all types of topics (sports, politics, novels, non-fiction, etc.) on records that Frank Kennedy, Jr., can play on his "Talking Book machine. Every month, he is sent new releases of literature, and he can thus make his own selections.

The Emmons School children will see a film on "Leader Dogs" and hear a talk by Mr. Kennedy, Jr., on Friday, January 31. Frank Kennedy, Jr. cautions everyone not to touch or try to pet Rex, his German Shepherd "Leader Dog," or even to touch him, without first speaking to Frank personally. Rex will only obey orders coming directly from Frank. A friendly gesture could be misinterpreted by the dog, whose entire training is to guard and care for his Master. It can not be emphasized too strongly to be sure always to speak to Frank Kennedy first.

Channel Lake Turns Down Tax Increase

Channel Lake School voters turned down a request for a 20c raise in the educational tax last Saturday by a vote of 93 to 55.

Principal Howard Scott and school board members expressed disappointment at the small vote. A vote of close to 400 was expected by school authorities.

Board President Elmer Eberman said the board canvassed the votes Monday night and found everything in order. Asked what plans the board had for the future, Mr. Eberman said, "We'll have to run the referendum again soon. What else can we do? We simply do not have enough money to operate the school for the rest of the year."

Mr. Eberman said that after funds in the educational budget are exhausted, tax anticipation warrants will have to be issued. This, he pointed out, is only a stop-gap. Interest on the tax warrants will then deplete the funds even more the next year.

Eberman expressed disappointment at the small number of parents of pupils who voted. With 77 families represented in the student body, a small percentage of the parents voted Saturday.

The tax referendum, if approved, would have raised the educational tax rate of the school from 71c per $100 of assessed valuation to 91c. Channel Lake now has one of the lowest tax rates in the area. About $10,000 additional monies would have come in to the school funds if the referendum had been approved. However, the additional money would not come to the school until 1965.

Heart Month Proclaimed

WHEREAS the heart and blood vessel diseases kill more residents of this nation and this community than all other causes combined, are responsible for widespread suffering, and often create serious economic hardship in our homes and businesses;

WHEREAS Heart Fund dollars make possible a campaign of research, education and community service to fight heart attack, stroke, rheumatic fever, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, inborn heart defects and many other forms of heart and blood vessel diseases;

AND WHEREAS the Heart Council will conduct its Heart Fund campaign throughout February, 1964, to make this health crusade possible;

THEREFORE, I, Murrill Cunningham, Mayor of Antioch, proclaim February to be Heart Month in Antioch and urge our citizens to support this important drive with their contributions and voluntary services.

Signed:
Murrill Cunningham
(Mayor of Antioch)

The Grass Lake School Board of Education will ask the voters again next Saturday, Feb. 1, to give them $130,000.00 to build a gym and more classrooms.

A referendum on a similar request was voted down by a narrow margin on November 16. Mrs. Charlotte Queen, secretary of the school board, said the board was grateful to the voters of the district who voted for the addition the last time, and hoped they would turn out in force to approve the issue this time.

The gym, Mrs. Queen said, would also be used as an auditorium. The school now has no room large enough to accommodate the whole student body. With all the students able to view films, for example, at one time, teachers would not need to sacrifice so much school time for these projects.

The state requires physical education activities, and Grass Lake students are now taken to Lotus School for this purpose. There are transportation costs and more time consumed, Mrs. Queen said.

With about 160 students, the classrooms are now at peak capacity. The first grade has 30 students.

The $130,000.00, Mrs. Queen said, would build the gym - auditorium and classrooms, extra wash-rooms, and would include equipment and heating facilities. Mrs. Queen pointed out that even if the referendum passed, the school would still have the lowest tax rate of any in the area. Payments on the bond are planned so that taxpayers will not be hit with a large increase in taxes.

Voting will be at the Grass Lake School from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Ten From Area Use Cancer Clinic

Ten persons from this area were examined at the George and Anna Portes Cancer Prevention Center of Chicago during 1963. They were among a total 6,469 apparently well people who took advantage of the clinic's cancer detection facility at 17 W. Huron St. on Chicago's near north side. Medical director Dr. Caesar Portes announced that year-end statistics showed an increase of 493 examinations over 1962.

The Center is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the early detection of cancer.

Physical examinations are given to well persons not under a doctor's care. Highly qualified physicians, specialists in their fields, are assisted by registered nurses and trained medical technicians.

The purpose, according to Dr. Portes, is to discover early cancer or pre-cancerous conditions before overt symptoms appear. He pointed out that most cancers can be found through physical examination and many can be cured if found early. The other advantage is possible discovery of conditions that might lead to cancer. Prompt medical attention can correct such conditions before they become serious.

Of those who took advantage of the Center's facilities in 1963, four were from Antioch, and six from Lake Villa.

OFFICIALS OF THE HEART FUND DRIVE in Antioch look on as Mayor Murrill Cunningham (seated, right) signs a proclamation declaring February Heart Month. Mrs. Edward Jacobs, seated, is Chairman of the Drive; Robert Wilton, Jr., (standing, left) is Business Chairman; Mrs. Frederick Walpole, co-chairman of the Drive; Mrs. Ralph Gressens, publicity chairman, and Preston Reckers, treasurer. Dr. Allan Thain, physician co-chairman, could not be present for the picture.

EDITORIAL

Let's Change The Law

The melancholy days have come—but not the ones to which the poet referred, January—the month of bills—left over Christmas bills, high fuel bills, a stunning electric bill (assisted to the high point of the year by the short days of December and Christmas lights); the month to figure, if not pay, 1963's income tax; and automobile licenses. This is the month when the checkbook is overworked; when school children around the nation come down with every conceivable childhood disease (doctor bills) and the family car requires repairs. And license plates.

Why new license plates in January? Wouldn't it be much more sensible and convenient to have our yearly license plates due in, say, June?

As we've already pointed out, expenses run high in the winter months. Added to the fact that it's low financial tide in most households, it's also a very uncomfortable time to change the plates. Why should we freeze our fingers performing this task in the coldest weather, when it could be a pleasant chore during June's balmy days?

So we suggest that some enterprising legislator raise his popularity rating with the general public by introducing a bill in the State Legislature making yearly automobile license plates due in June instead of January. He can count on our unqualified support.

Speaking To You

By John Burland

It is of real importance that Americans be well informed about Communism and about Communist Russia in particular. The foreign policy of the U. S. is influenced by public opinion; a well informed public is necessary for a wise foreign policy. If Americans are ill informed, or misinformed, or misled, they may compel the administration to follow policies it considers unwise, or to refrain from policies it believes would be fruitful.

United States News and World-Report performs a real service in its issue of Jan. 20. In a long article by one of its staff members, Charles Foltz, Jr., the magazine featured the big changes inside Russia. Mr. Foltz has just returned from a 20,000 mile trip in Russia; he investigated every corner of Russia from Leningrad to Alma Ata, from the Caucasus to Bratsk. He talked to scores of Russians in all walks of life; he reports the currents-of-Russian-thinking that are changing the patterns and policies.

This will come as no surprise to students of world affairs; there has been a long series of similar reports from reliable sources; the importance of this article is the fact that U. S. News is a strongly conservative magazine and cannot be accused of pro-Communism or of leftist leanings.

Now what does he report?

First, that there is a new spirit and a new consciousness in Russia. He sees Russia emerging from Communist despotism with a determination to bring change. He finds open and merciless criticism of the government and the party. "The Communists," he finds, "are no longer leading. They are being pushed by the people. They run hither and yon, seeking formulas to satisfy people in a system not made for people."

He finds "democracy of a kind the Communists did not plan to create in the rise." He finds a people who know what is wrong and intend to change it. (He is not speaking of a violent revolution. The Communists will run the country for a long time to come, but it will be Communism modified by popular demand.) He finds people not misled by gobbledygook but who have a pretty fair idea of the score and what should be done about it.

It is impossible to give the flavor of a long article in a few paragraphs. You should read the article, and the rest of the series, yourself. It may have little relation to what you have heard recently about Russia, but it has the stamp of good reporting and it is confirmed by the reports of other travelers.

I do not wish to imply that this is a paean of praise for Russia. Mr. Foltz sees and reports the shoddiness, the crudeness, the failures of the Communist regime. He discovers the graft in the Russian system, points out the racialism and the colonization of the imperialists. He describes in detail the inefficiency, the backwardness, the barrenness of Russian life.

But he describes the military activity along the Chinese frontier, he notes that slave labor is dead. He listens to the voice of the Russian people still cautious, but increasingly unafraid as they demand a different world.

It would be a pity if American attitudes were based on stereotypes of Russia inherited from the age of Stalin. Consider what our policy toward W. Germany and Japan would be if we saw in those nations only the image of Dahau and the death march from Bataan. American policy must be flexible enough to adapt itself to the march of events.

Mr. Foltz warns that Russia has not reached the point of no return, that it is still possible for a change in leadership to reverse the course. We would be stupid to presume that Russia is now a playful kitten—we would be equally stupid to ignore the underlying currents of Russian life.

The face of communism is changing. It is no longer a monolithic ice cap slowly engulfing the world. It is split into rival camps whose disagreement goes far beyond a dispute over methods. The Communist world is as deeply split as was Christendom by the Reformation.

This is neither the time for gushing enthusiasm or for sterile hate campaigns. The people, who would have us break relations and pursue a policy of rigidity, are looking at charts that are out-of-date. We can no more adopt an unchangeable course than could the Mississippi pilot of a century ago. The river channel changed from month to month and the unbending pilot steered his boat on a sandbar.

During and following a winter storm, says the Chicago Motor Club, streets and highways usually are slippery at the approaches to intersections and railroad grade crossings. When ever approaching intersections and railroad crossings, make certain you can stop in time.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

The handling of legal cases of all kinds, from the simplest traffic violation to the most complicated lawsuit, has been simplified by the recent judicial reorganization in Illinois.

Under the new system, for instance, a motorist picked up on a traffic charge may be admitted to bail by surrendering his operator's or chauffeur's license to the arresting officer, with his receipt being recognized as a valid temporary substitute anywhere in the state.

If he prefers, he can post $25 bond at the nearest available police station, sheriff's office, jail or other governmental building. A third alternative is to post the $25 bond by mail, by placing the money in an envelope, addressing it to the circuit court and depositing it in a U. S. mailbox in the presence of the arresting officer.

Traffic offenders now appear before a magistrate of the circuit court instead of the justices of the peace or police magistrates. The latter two offices no longer exist.

The courts, by rule, have set up schedules of fines on pleas of guilty, which often may be accepted by a circuit clerk or deputy circuit clerk without the offender even appearing before a judge. To take an example, the fine for a Downstate speeding violation that is not in excess of 10 miles an hour over the speed limit would be $10 plus $5 cost costs. The rate increases at $1 a mile for each mile over the speed limit, up to 15 miles per hour. Speed violations in excess of 15 miles per hour over the limit requires court appearance.

In another area a new procedure—involving a minimum of legal proceedings—has been established for civil claims of less than $200. In cases of this type an attorney will not be required.

The problem of delays in court cases should be considerably eased under the new system. In the past some courts had backlogs of cases that delayed trials for years while other courts actually had a surplus of judges and fragmented trial courts. The former created intolerable delays for litigants and the latter was unduly expensive. Under the new system we have more than an ample reservoir of judges to meet the total demands of the state.

The judicial reorganization, in other words, streamlined our entire court system and means quicker and more effective justice at every level.

Many Car Expenses Are Deductible

The Chicago Motor Club reminds motorists to include certain car expenses when itemizing deductions on income tax returns. All motorists may deduct the following items:

State automobile license fees; municipal vehicle tax fees; state gasoline taxes (five cents a gallon in Illinois; six cents a gallon in Indiana); casualty losses, not reimbursed by insurance or other means, if not due to willful negligence; interest paid on automobile loans; personal property tax; and state and city sales tax on automobiles.

If you use your car for business, you also may deduct the following—in whole or in part, depending upon the extent of business use:

Motor Club dues; automobile insurance premiums, depreciation; gasoline, oil, and lubricating expenses; cost of all repairs; washing and polishing expenses; anti-freeze and other winterizing service; and garage rent, parking charges, and toll road fees.

The Motor Club points out that costs incurred in driving to and from regular plac-

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Remember the classic comedy routine based on "Who's on First" that convulsed Abbott and Costello fans for years? Just think of what the talented duo could have done with the Republican gubernatorial picture last week.

The confusing in again, out again gyrations of State Treasurer William Scott, the uncertain waltzing of Cook County GOP Chairman Hayes Robertson, and the surprising merger of Charles Percy and Charles Carpenter forces could make an hilarious comedy routine, complete with the overtones of sadness and tragedy.

Sadness or tragedy, that is, for the fortunes of the GOP in the November balloting since the bitterness generated by the backroom maneuvering and headline stealing can't help but strengthen the chances for re-election of Gov. Otto Kerner.

The swing to Scott by Carpenter supporters who were shocked by the Secretary of State's alliance with Percy has about it the feel of sour grapes and there is more than a little danger that rash and intemperate statements will be made during the course of the campaign which will leave scars long after the battle has been fought. Locally, it appears likely that the Carpenter forces will swing to Scott rather than to Percy, but even here there will be dissidents who will follow Carpenter's recommendations in the governor's race.

foreshadowed changes in the local Republican picture as well as the state picture with County GOP Chairman Robert J. Milton enjoying a sudden burst of importance if not renewed popularity.

As an early enlistee in the Percy ranks Milton suffered from the slings and arrows of committeemen who were solidly behind the Carpenter candidacy, but last Thursday's merger suddenly made the chairman look better to committeemen who were looking for some place to go.

John Babcock, of Cuba Township, the Lake County chairman for Carpenter, was considered the front-runner among possible aspirants for Milton's central committee leadership, but the changing picture produced some new alignment possibilities.

In local races the battle for Coroner appears to be developing into a battle of "plaques."

First off the mark in the race was Deputy Sheriff Orville Clavey, who was awarded a plaque by the Waukegan Jaycees and a few days later Coroner Robert H. Babcock, who is seeking his fourth term, came up with a distinguished service award from the Grayslake Jaycees.

Makes one wonder how many more Jaycee groups and other civic organizations still have to make their presentations.

The suggestion by State Senator Robert Coulson that Lake and McHenry County residents get together to urge a state university for this area has a familiar feeling to it coming as it does on the heels of defeats in each county of junior college proposals. The proposal is particularly attractive in that it appears to place the financial burden for providing higher education for the area on the state government.

This follows the growing tendency to look to a higher governmental level to provide what local residents have indicated they won't support.

Proponents of the junior college proposals have rationalized the outcome of the voting as merely the expression of the opponents to the plan because there wasn't a bigger turnout at the polls. Sen. Coulson apparently feels that since backers of the junior college weren't sufficiently aroused to get to the polls and vote in the junior college the state should be called in to build a four year college.

It isn't too hard to imagine at a later date another suggestion that, inasmuch as the voters in a school district have voted down a tax increase to build a new school house the state come in and provide the facilities the head-in-the-sand local residents have rejected.

What Kind of A Car Is Right For You

A very successful dealer who enjoys the confidence and loyalty of the large number of customers who patronize his dealership said recently that buying a car was much like getting married. The dealer plays the role of mother-in-law.

When he explained it all it makes sense, too. The biggest difference between the two is that divorce is easier when you buy the car.

When a prospective buyer first falls in love with his bride-to-be he may be overwhelmed with her beautiful appearance. Or he may be thinking of what a great help she'll be to him later in an economical and practical way. Whatever approach he uses, the romance passes into the honeymoon and settling down stage when the owner forms some definite opinions about his bride a few months later.

Manufacturers make automobiles to suit every taste and need and if a buyer is counseled honestly at the time of purchase he should avoid some obvious mistakes. His beautiful bride may turn out to be expensive to maintain so he should know this beforehand. Or she may have faults that don't show up during the courtship.

If you buy your new car from our large variety of models available we'll do our best to see that the "marriage" remains just as pleasant an experience as the "courtship." And as mother of the bride, that she performs the duties expected of her well and efficiently.

Along The Way with ANNIE MAE

It's positively posh! The latest status symbol! The veritable fountain of youth! These comments drove this gal to witness for herself just what this ski stuff was all about. My first glimpse of that man-made semblance of a Swiss Alp was reminiscent of the ant hills in our garden, with a steady stream of gayly clad creatures filing upward and onward. It seems that one must be "towed" up this frosted peak, and once it is reached the grand and glorious thrill of a descent on skis is staring you in the face. Ever wonder what a paratrooper must feel like in that free-fall before his chute opens? Try going down a ski hill for the first time; they don't put rip-cords on skis! What's more, it suddenly dawns on you that those funny little springs on those barrel staves are clamps! You're clamped to these sled runners! But don't worry, they told you, there'd be somebody at the bottom to help you stop, it doesn't mean a thing that there's a big red cross on that truck. The stretcher bearers assured me that a snow burn is no worse than a sunburn, it's just that I'll have to do everything standing up for a while. Who knows, I may try it again someday, maybe even fifty feet up the slope instead of twenty-five.

THE LATEST REPORT: We have a town full of gals who know exactly what this skiing game is all about. Among some of those who make weekly trip to one of the "Big Rock Candy Mountains" are Marge Warner, Dolores Abderholden, Gert Osmond, Pat Herbert, and Ange Maras. . . Joan and Ted Larson, long-time ski devotees, have graduated to bigger peaks in Michigan and Colorado. . . that beach party and free Florida trip predicted at the Moose Lodge, went the way of most TV give-away shows. . . Now hear this! We are inviting everybody to our new show at the office! You're right, they went and tiled

Urges College For This Area

Senator Robert Coulson (R. Waukegan) proposed today that a new state university be developed for the north-eastern Illinois suburban area. "Most experts are agreed," he said, "that two more state universities should be added to the state system. The patching, branching and topsy-like growth of the six existing institutions is no longer good economic sense or good educational planning."

"We have the college population in northeastern Illinois—more than two thousand students in the present state universities. We have the economic and population growth which can absorb the graduates. Everyone recognizes the need for more facilities, and a regional university needs fewer dormitories per classroom than a centralized university."

"Yet for more than a half-century, while new schools have been built for the lower grades, the only improvement in college facilities has been the enlargement of existing institutions. There is a point of inefficiency and leveling of standards when a university becomes too large and too impersonal."

"Illinois needs at least two new state universities. One of these should be located in the Lake-McHenry area. I intend to use every effort and resource to get this pro-

Senator Coulson urged all persons interested in this plan to get in touch with him. "We'll need all the organized help we can get," he said. "This is a hard task, but I think it can be done."

New Column Starts

A new weekly column starts in our paper this week. Written by John Burland, Director of Social Studies at Rockford East High School, the column deals with a wide range of subjects on the national and international scene.

We hope our readers will enjoy the new feature and find it informative.

FREEDOM IS NOT FREE

Over the portals of a high school in Ohio is a warning that "Freedom is not free." These words were written and carved near the beginning of this century. They were timely then and are more timely now.

What disturbs so many of us now is the apparent indifference of millions of eligible voters who fail to register for the privilege of voting, and even when registered fail to vote. They are those modern independents who acknowledge no party, and apparently no responsibility for the preservation of their freedom.

To rouse these people to their primary obligations as citizens is a discouraging task, yet if each of us accepts his share of the burden, something may be accomplished. If earnest citizens get out the voters in their own families and immediate neighborhoods, an impressive result may be achieved.

It can't be done by shouting over the air waves or by billboard advertising. It's a personal job, what the politicians call a precinct job.

Another reason for loving our enemies is that none of them ever borrowed money from us and forgot to pay it back.

Semi-Finalists For State Scholarships

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has announced the names of semi-finalists in the 1964-65 State Scholarship program on the basis of a high school academic record and performance on the competitive examination. The first-year winners will be announced in April, 1964.

Monetary and Honorary awards will be granted to qualified semi-finalists who attend approved colleges or universities within the State of Illinois.

Semi-finalists from Antioch are Mary D. Forster, Rt. 2, Box 21; Mary Ellen Grego, Rt. 3, Box 199; Betty E. Liddle, Hwy. 173; Lloyd A. Pedersen, Rt. 2, Box 200; Shirley Reichenbach, Rt. 1, Box 116; Jeffrey P. Ryan, 156 Oakwood Drive; Judith A. Stoffel, Rt. 4, Box 60; and Norbert Wolter, Rt. 5, Box 426.

Take what God gives, O heart of mine,
And build your house of happiness.

Perchance some have been given more;
But many have been given less.

The treasures lying at your feet,
Whose value you but faintly guess,

Another builder looking on
Would barter heaven to possess.

Have you found work that you can do?
Is there a heart that loves you best?

Is there a spot somewhere called home
Where, spent and worn, your soul may rest?

A friendly tree? A book? A song?
A dog that loves your hand's caress?

A store of health to meet life's needs?
O, build your house of happiness!

Trust not tomorrow's dawn to bring
The dreamed-of joy for which you wait.

You have enough of pleasant things
To house your soul in goodly state;

Tomorrow Time's relentless stream
May bear what now you have away;

Take what God gives, O heart, and build
Your house of happiness today!

YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Ponds

Q: Sometimes I buy a lipstick shade that looks awful on me, although it looks great in the case. Why is this? And how can I make sure I'm choosing the right color? Mistakes are expensive, you know.

A: Because color selection is such a personal thing, dependent on individual taste and your own special shadings, it's almost impossible to tell you what you should and should not wear. However, perhaps you can decide by applying the following clues to yourself:

Don't wear: pale, pale lipstick shades if your hair, eyes and skin are light... if your mouth is small or if your chin is tiny or slightly receding.

Don't wear: dark, heavy lipstick shades—they're out of fashion.

Don't wear: colors that clash—like a blue-red lipstick with an orange blouse or an orange lipstick with rose or lilac accessories.

Do wear: variations of shades that have, in the past, been successful on you.

Do wear: A clear, bright coral that's almost a true red, if you're in doubt. An Angel Face lipstick shade called Honey can be worn with anything—by anyone and is probably one of the clearest, most non-conflicting colors on the market today.

Do buy: Small sizes when you're trying a new, unexplored shade—this will only set you back about 39¢ (plus tax) and won't break your bank if it's not as perfect as you hoped it would be.

WINTER WOES by Pinson

Here's Harrison Jamie McMoore, From a skid he has troubles galore. This wreck is a nifty, McMoore was not thrifty... He should have bought tire chains before!

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES
The Safe Winter Driving League presents this winter driving tip from the National Safety Council: "Tests show that reinforced tire chains cut stopping distance on snow and ice more effectively than anything else, and give from four to five times as much traction as regular tires without chains." Don't be a traffic blocker—always carry tire chains for severe snow and ice conditions.

"FOR WANT OF A 'SPECIAL' NAIL..."

New York, (HK) — Home owners handy with a hammer are finding they can do much better nailing jobs when they replace the common round nail with the various special purpose nails developed by the steel industry and nail makers.

Though nails are still made from wire—the strongest form of steel—research has produced some 400 different kinds and sizes of American nails. However, house owners need know only a half dozen or so to improve their work around the house.

Here are some helpful nailing tips:

Use sharp pointed nails to prevent splitting soft woods, and blunt or even pointless nails for hardwoods, such as oak. The purpose of a nail is to hold, and the various special purpose nails have been designed to hold under practically all circumstances.

Don't use a smooth nail for fastening shingles or shakes to the side of a house. Use a ring-shank or shake-nail, which has tiny rings or corrugations around the shank to give it a good grip against vibration. Variations of this nail are used for gypsum board, and other dry walls, for siding and sub-flooring.

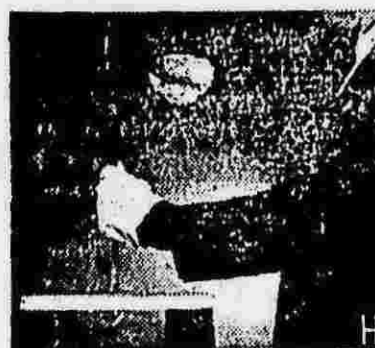

For even greater holding power, use a screw-shank or drive-screw nail (it looks like a long slender screw) on flooring, roof rafters and even cabinets. These nails have eight times the holding power of "common" nails.

SHEAR STRENGTH

Use a square nail with serrations running across its four sides when there is need for great shear strength. In addition to having 50 per cent greater shear strength than others this nail won't turn in wood, holds better and minimizes splitting.

Roofing nails are a class by themselves with special nails for different kinds of roofing. A critical consideration is the size and shape of the head. Galvanized steel roofing, for example, should be secured by nails with umbrella-shaped heads. In any case, foolishly economizing with ordinary small-headed nails may cost hundreds of dollars later from water or wind damage.

GLASSWARE WITH POINT

STRONGER GLASS FOR SCIENCE — New glassware developed for use in scientific laboratories is durable enough to be pounded through a one-inch thick board without damage. Produced by Owens-Illinois, maker of Kimble Products, the new glass is used in precision measuring instruments called "Safe-Gard" pipets. The tips of the pipets are tempered with flame to give added strength to resist the frequent breakage that occurs in laboratory work.

The George Hucker home on Sunset Avenue was robbed of four rifles and $45 in cash. His dog was left to guard the house and apparently did not bother the intruders. The theft was reported to the Sheriff's office Sunday.

Louis Rogers returned home from Burlington Hospital last Thursday, where he was recovering from injuries received in an auto accident the week previous.

The Channel Lake grade school basketball team won two games last Monday night from St. Bede's of Ingleside. This was the B team's first victory this season. The teams played Fremont Thursday afternoon, the A team winning their game and the B team losing. The A team is yet undefeated in conference play. The next game will be Thursday afternoon in the school gym, against Johnsonburg.

The PTA will sponsor a basketball game Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the school gym. This will be the game of the season, because it will pit the undefeated A team against the male members of the Channel Lake school board and faculty with the help of some of the fathers of members of the A team. The PTA will serve refreshments and will be standing by with an inhalator and a good supply of liniment. Don't miss this, as it will probably make some kind of history.

Mrs. Jean Needham of Sundside Subd. and Mrs. Helen Anderson of Lake Avenue are the new leader and assistant leader of the Brownie Scout Troop in Channel Lake. The meeting will be at the school this week as one of Mrs. Needham's children has the measles. The meetings are usually held at the Needham home.

The Henry Bogaerts' of Lake Ave. celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday night. Many friends helped them celebrate at a party in their honor at the Wayside Inn.

Jeffery Gutowski celebrated his 7th birthday January 21 with a family party at his home. Jeff is in the first grade at Channel Lake school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gutowski.

The school gym is open to the school age boys as printed in this column last week. The gym is open on Tuesday evenings for the high school age boys and men, and Thursday nights for the ladies in the school district. A small

Mrs. James McMillen will be the guest speaker at the Parents' Club meeting at Emmons School, Beach Grove, on Wednesday, February 5, at 8:00 p.m. Since February is the month in which Abraham Lincoln's birthday is honored, Mrs. McMillen's talk will be about the wives of seven men important in the Civil War. Mrs. McMillen has created authentic, original dresses of the Civil War period, which her daughter, Mrs. John Kakacek, will model as she is giving her speech. She also has designed these same fashions in a miniature style, and will display seven dolls in these costumes.

The serving committee will be Mrs. E. McDowell, Mrs. Alvin Benning, and Mrs. D. Spencer. Mrs. Roger Drije, president, states that guests are invited to attend this meeting, and will be a welcome addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jahnke, Beach Grove, were dinner guests at the Robert Oliver home, in Lake Forest, on Saturday, Jan. 25.

fee is charged for these two evenings.

The educational tax referendum was defeated by a margin of almost 2 to 1 last Saturday. Only 180 ballots were cast out of a possible 400. The biggest disappointment was the small percentage of parents of students in the school that failed to vote. It is up to the school board as to whether any future plans for the referendum will be made.

Parcel Post To Cost More

An effective date of April 1 for the new domestic parcel post rate increase was announced on January 18 by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

The parcel post increase—approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission and averaging about 13.1%—would produce about $75.4 million based on the volume handled in 1962—the year for which the most recent figures are available.

Catalog rates will be increased approximately 13% and would produce added revenue of about $2.4 million if the 1962 volume were maintained.

The decision of the ICC will assist the Post Office Department in carrying out its objective of reducing the department's drain on the Federal treasury by $100 million in Fiscal Year 1965," Mr. Gronouski said.

The last increase was on February 1, 1960. Postage rates for most other classes of mail were increased January 7, 1963.

The higher rates do not affect air parcel post or international parcel post.

Some examples of the increase and the effect it will have on the public are as follows:

The average six pound par-

Sequoits Lose Close One To Lake Forest

Antioch's Sequoits, in one of their best performances thus far this season, came within two points of upsetting league-leading Lake Forest Friday night on the winners' court. The Sequoits outscored the Scouts in the first three quarters only to lose it in the final period 70 to 69.

Using a full court press from the opening whistle, the hustling Sequoits jumped out to an 18 to 16 first quarter lead. They had increased it to 37 to 32 by the end of the first half.

Antioch poured in 19 points in the third quarter while holding Lake Forest to only two baskets. The Scouts managed to cash 12 free throws during the period to stay within range of the Sequoits.

In the fourth period Vic Rogers and Bernie Smith got into foul trouble and the Sequoits lost their rebounding edge and gradually saw the Scouts whittling away at their lead.

Lake Forest went into the lead with a little over two minutes remaining and it was a see-saw battle from then on. John Lear gave the Sequoits a one point lead at 69 to 68 with about 12 seconds left but the Scouts broke through the Sequoit press and countered with the final 2 points with only four seconds remaining. Antioch was unable to get a shot away before the gun sounded and the final score remained 69 to 70. The loss was the second of the season to the Scouts. The Sequoits failed in their first try at 48 to 44.

Schmitz Gets 35
Bob Schmitz, Sequoit reserve who hasn't seen too much action this year, came through to spark the Sequoits with 14 baskets and 7 free throws to lead both teams in scoring. John Lear followed with 19 points. The Sequoits' leading scorer, Bernie Smith, was held to 3 points, getting only one field goal late in the closing minutes.

Jim Prescott led for the winners with 28 points. For one of the few times this season the Sequoits failed to control the boards as the Scouts grabbed off 40 rebounds while Antioch managed only 31. Shooting from the field was evenly matched as both clubs hit around 40% but Antioch cashed only 17 of 32 attempts from the free throw line while Lake Forest added 24 points in 41 attempts.

Antioch has another tough weekend coming up as they meet Warren on their home court Friday and then go to Fox Lake for another game against Grant Saturday. The Sequoits beat Warren in the first round but lost to Grant by one point.

Salem Malmen Lose

The Salem Central wrestling team lost its first match of the year as the Kenosha Red Devils outpointed them 34-8. Going into this match the Falcons were 8-0. Two Falcons won, Doug Davis on a pin and Ray Nosko on points. Four Falcons lost by narrow margins, Schlagel by 2, Crumbliss by 3, Seitz by 3, and Herth by 1 point.

The Salem lineup was juggled considerably. Jim Durkin, Salem's 120-lb. ace was unable to wrestle and his place was taken by Crumbliss. Herth, Salem's regular at 180 had to go at heavyweight since John Hansen, the regular heavyweight became ineligible. Salem's next match will be with Antioch.

JOHN LEAR adds two points on a fast break lay-up against Lake Forest Friday night. Antioch lost in the closing seconds 70 to 69.

BOB SCHMITZ hits another one as Lake Forest's Ron Verbeke (11) tries to stop him. Bob scored 35 points for the evening.

Early Spurt Beats Salem

The Salem Central Falcons, behind by 17 points at the half, tried valiantly to overcome the deficit in the second half, but came out 5 points short as they bowed to Burlington 50-54. It was only the second loss of the year for the Falcons who are now 10-2.

Burlington, sparked by guard Gene Frank, who bagged 22 points, led Salem all the way except for an early 4-3 Falcon advantage. After Bob Hofer's basket gave Salem its 4-3 lead Burlington scorched the Falcons for 11 straight points to take a 14-4 lead. The Demons maintained the lead and sorted an 18-8 bulge at the quarter.

Burlington kept pouring it on and led 35-18 at the half. Nothing could go right for the Falcons in the first half. The Demons ball-hawking defense forced the Falcons to make many, many bad passes that usually turned into baskets for the Demons. Even when the Falcons would steal the ball or grab a rebound the ball somehow ended up with a Demon in control.

The second half saw the Falcons revert to the form that had won 10 previous games for them. Two baskets by Hofer and one by Ron Weil cut the lead to 11 but Burlington managed to build it back up to 17 with 6 points by Frank. With 3½ minutes left in the third quarter Salem exploded. Aided by a brilliant display of outside shooting by Jim Herda the Falcons outscored the Demons 28-16 the remainder of the game. Baskets by Hofer, Weil, Herda and Muhlenbeck melted down the lead to 9 (43-34). After Joe Cline hit for Burlington, Jim Herda crashed in two long set shots. Bob Hofer scored and Burlington's once commanding lead was down to only 5 at 45-40. Dave Neilson's free throw with 30 seconds left gave the Demons a 46-40 lead going into the 4th quarter.

Another two-pointer by Herda whittled the lead to 46-42 with 7:21 left in the game. Three free throws by Neilson and Cline shoved the Demons ahead by 7 (49-42) with 6:21 remaining on the clock that the Falcons were fighting. Two more baskets by Herda plus one by Hofer made it 52-48 with 5:00 left. Bedlam broke loose as the Falcon fans roared their approval to the Salem upsurge.

The Demons went into a stall with about 4 minutes left and forced the Falcons to foul. Gene Frank sank 3 free throws and Dave Nielsen 2 to boost the lead to 9 at 58-48 with only 1:50 left. Salem gave it all they had as Ron Weil banged in a jumper from above the key and Lyle Foulke made 2 free throws. Les Bleneman snuffed out the Falcon hopes when he scored with 10 seconds to go. Jim Herda, who almost single handedly kept the Falcons in the game along with Bob Hofer ended the game as he canned a set shot from near half court. He made 7 out of 8 shots the second half. The Falcon "B" team won 46-37, their 10th of the year. Guy Flaschner led the Falcons with 15, Rory Boucha and Bob Pofahl had 14.

Falcons Rally To Win, Stay In First Place

By John Hansen

A basket by Glen Muhlenbeck with 4 seconds left in the game gave Salem a pulsating 54-52 win over Waterford. Although the Falcons were behind 26-9 early in the game they never gave up and kept battling until they won. The Falcons are now 11-2 for the season, in conference action Coach Dorm Grams' boys are 5-0 and have undisputed possession of first place. The Falcons can clinch at least a tie for the crown when they travel to Union Grove to meet the always tough Broncos.

Bob Hofer led the Falcons with 17 points. He also picked off 17 rebounds. Lyle Foulke followed with 16; Bruce Dunek had 11 and Jim G. Gary Lewis and Bob Guth paced the Wolves with 17 points apiece.

The first quarter saw Waterford's zone press completely disrupt Salem's offense. Waterford, aided by Gary Lewis, 6 points, stormed away and grabbed a 22-8 first quarter lead. It took the Falcons 3 minutes before they got their first basket. The charged-up Wolves scored 4 points in the opening 50 seconds of the second stanza and led 26-9. The Falcons then began to press and the Wolves began to foul heavily. Aided by nine free throws the Falcons outscored Waterford 17-4 the rest of the quarter to come within 5 (30-25) at halftime. Lyle Foulke scored 7 points in the quarter, 5 on free throws.

Foulke hit to cut the lead to 3 points at 30-27 with 7:27 left in the quarter. Jim Herda pulled Salem within 1 point with 6:44 left. A three-point play by Lawie pushed Waterford ahead by 4. Another basket by Foulke and a free throw by Hofer cut the lead back to 1. But once again Waterford countered as Bob Guth hit a basket and Tom Van Vain added a free throw.

The combo of Hofer and Foulke narrowed the gap as Hofer stuffed in a rebound shot and Foulke canned a jump shot with 3 seconds left in the quarter. With 7:01 left in the quarter Tom Van Vain fouled out for Waterford, his replacement Jim Stober fouled out later in the quarter. Without their two big men the Wolves' rebounding fell off considerably in the quarter. Bob Hofer's basket gave Salem its first lead of the night 38-37 with 6:32 left in the game. Then in the next 3 minutes Waterford built up a 5 point lead on the strength of 4 points apiece by Dick Reese and Guy Hickey. 4:07 remained and Waterford led 45-40, but the dependable duo of Hofer and Foulke then scored 8 straight points and Salem was ahead to stay.

A basket and a three-point play by Hofer tied the score and 3 free throws by Foulke gave Salem a 48-45 lead. Bruce Dunek scored Salem's 10th point in a row and Salem held a 50-45 lead with 1:30 left.

Waterford came within 2 with 42 seconds left. Two free throws by Dunek made it 52-48 with 0:33 left. Waterford was not through, though. Jim Skarie, the quarterback who threw the last second T. D. that beat Salem in football, tried his best to ruin things again as he swished 2 free throws with 25 seconds left. The Wolves gained control of the ball with 10 seconds left and tied the game when Bob Guth made good on two free throws. In their jubilation the Wolves forgot about Muhlenbeck. Dunek quickly took the ball out of bounds and tossed the ball to Herda who in turn passed to Foulke. Foulke then hit Muhlenbeck with a perfect pass. Muhlenbeck outdistanced two Waterford defenders and made the game-winning lay-up. He scored only one basket all night, but that one won the game.

Coach Rodger Terry's "B" team won its 11 game of the year as they bumped off Burlington 46-37. The Future Falcons had good scoring balance. Guy Flaschner led with 12, Rory Boucha had 11, Bob Pofahl 10, and Neal Gussarson 8.

Soph Squad Loses Chance For Laurels

Antioch's soph squad lost all hopes of any conference laurels Friday night as they dropped a one pointer to the Lake Forest Scouts in the first game at Lake Forest. The loss is the third in conference for the Sequoits.

Trailing by five points at the start of the third quarter the Sequoits, led by Mike Sterbenz put on a 15 point rally and moved into a 38 to 35 lead by the end of the period.

Antioch had a chance to get the last basket but a controversial charging foul called against Tyrone Walls as he went in for a layup in closing seconds foiled Antioch's last hope.

Mike Sterbenz was leading scorer for the game, checking in with 25 points. Tom Blackman followed with 13 points.

Cagers Switch To Rockford Holiday Meet

Antioch's bid to go to Rockford and play in the Rockford Classic Holiday Basketball Tournament next year has been accepted. It was learned this week. The Tournament takes place over Christmas Holidays and will replace the Fenton Tournament the Sequoits have appeared in for the past three years.

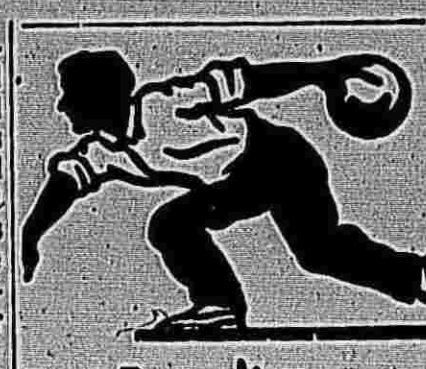

Coach Roger Andrews said, "We are very happy over the change and are looking forward to it very much. It will give Antioch fans a chance to see how our Sequoits stack up against some top seeded competition next season."

It is a sixteen team tournament and will run December 28, 29 and 30. Teams will play mornings, afternoons and evenings. If you lose the first game you go into a consolation bracket and still have a chance to play four games. The Tournament will be played at Boylan Central Catholic High School in Rockford, Ill.

With three openings in the schedule still remaining, the teams lined up so far are Antioch, Rockford Auburn, Rockford Harlem, Rockford Guilford, Boylan Central, Bloomington Trinity, Peoria Manual, Main South, Dundee, Winnebago, Mount Morris, Argo and Chicago Carver.

Antioch will still play in the annual Mooseheart Tournament held at Thanksgiving. The pairings for the 1964 high school district tournament have not been announced as yet but Antioch will compete in the Wauconda tourney starting February 25 and running through the 28th.

The teams for the district tourney will be Antioch, Elmhurst, Vernon, Grant, Grayslake, Maryville, Cary Grove, Round Lake, and Wauconda. The tournament will be held at Wauconda.

Postmaster of Antioch For Over Twenty Years

To most of the people of Antioch, the Post Office and "Roy Kufalk" are practically synonymous.

This is hardly surprising. Roy worked at the Post Office since 1926 and has been Postmaster since 1940.

He started as a clerk in the Post Office on October 13, 1926. That's when the post office was located in the old office on Main street, recently vacated by the Antioch Savings & Loan. From there, they moved to the building now occupied by King's Drug Store on Lake St., then to the new building on Orchard St.

Roy married Ida Runyard on December 27, 1926, the same year he started to work at the postoffice. Mrs. Kufalk was an elementary school teacher for many years in various schools in the area.

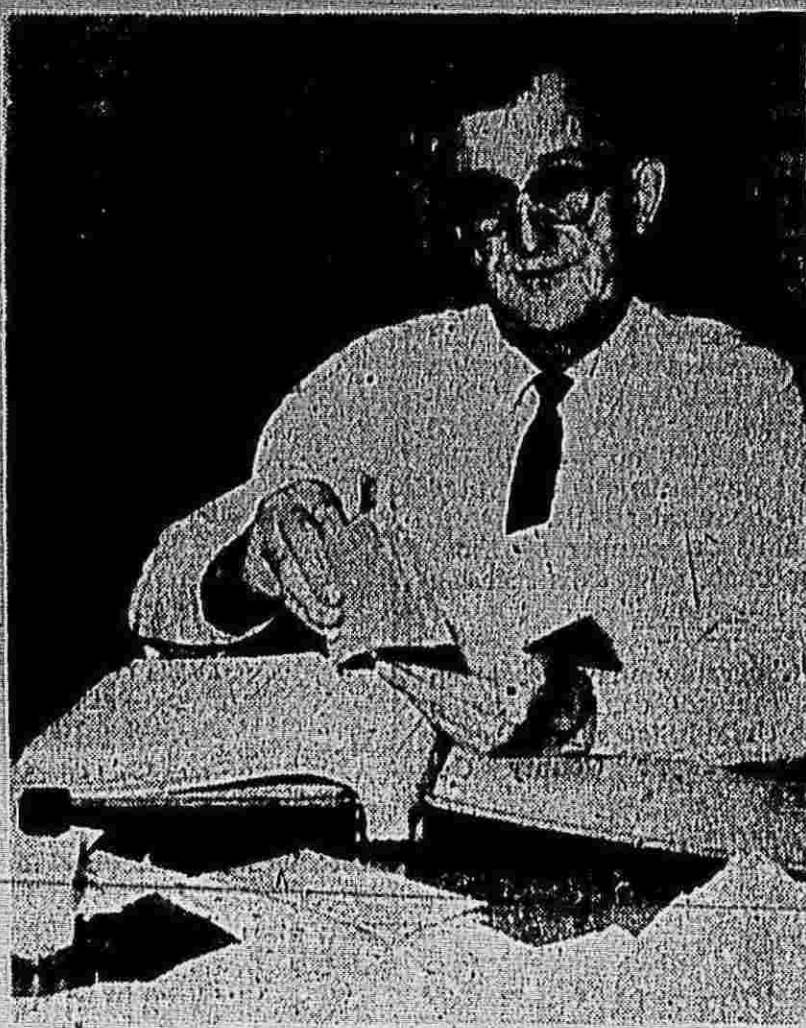

Roy became Postmaster in 1940, replacing James Horan. It was about this time that the position was removed from political control and became a Civil Service career job.

The post office has become Big Business in the years since Roy first started to work there. In 1925, the receipts were between $8,000 and $9,000. In 1963, the receipts were approximately $200,000.

Although postal rates have increased, most of this increase in revenue is due to increased use of the mails, Roy says. In the year ending June 16, 1963, the office handled 3,413,624 pieces of outgoing mail. There is no record of the volume of mail handled in 1925, but 1963 showed an increase of 7% over the previous year.

Any story about Roy inevitably becomes a story of the Antioch postoffice. He has statistics, records, a long memory and a thorough knowledge of his business. A bit of the history is his reminiscence of the earlier mail routes and carriers. In earlier times, Antioch had three rural routes and no city routes—village residents had P. O. boxes. Lester J. Osmond, Sr., was carrier on Rt. 1, Arthur Trieger on Rt. 2, and Homer Winch on Rt. 3. When Homer Winch resigned, the three routes were consolidated into two. Subsequently it was increased to three routes, then four, then the present five. Three city routes were also established.

In And About Our Town

Roy Kufalk was born August 18, 1902, in Burlington, Wis., the son of Louis and Minnie Kufalk. His father was in the cement work business. When Roy was 8 years old, they moved to Dyers Lake, Wis., near Slades Corners, where they lived for two years. Then the family moved to English Prairie, west of Channel Lake on Route 173. Roy graduated from the eighth grade at English Prairie School, which last year ceased to function as a school. Roy attended High School in Richmond for a time, but didn't finish.

In 1920, he moved to Antioch, living south of town. In 1927, he and his wife moved to a home on Victoria St., and three years ago to their present home on Harden St. They have two children, Robert, principal of the William Dennis Elementary School in Rockford, and Verna May Holm, Millburn, a registered nurse.

Since 1941, Roy has maintained an official weather station in Antioch. Joseph C. James started Roy on this hobby. He now sends monthly weather reports to Ashville, North Carolina, and weekly to Springfield during the spring - summer - fall months.

Roy's devotion to maintaining an efficient organization and giving the kind of service traditional in the U. S. Post Office is evident in the hours he puts in and the operation of the mails. At Christmas time, at the height of the rush, every piece of mail is cleared through the office on the day it's received. This in spite of Federal restrictions on the amount of part-time help which can be employed, etc.

Roy starts his day at 4:30 a.m. each day. He's at the postoffice by 5 a.m., home for breakfast at about 7 a.m., then back to work till perhaps 11:30 a.m. After a lunch hour sometimes accompanied by a nap, he's back at the postoffice, usually till it closes.

He has accumulated 3,088 hours of unused sick leave over the years. This in spite of two heart attacks in recent years which hospitalized him for short periods. Each employee is allowed 13 days sick leave a year. Roy allows no goldbricking to use up sick leave, either by himself or other postoffice employees.

His main hobby now is fishing. He used to do a lot of hunting, but has given it up. There just aren't many places left to hunt around here, he says. He used to be Chairman of the March of Dimes, of course, in his position as postmaster. He's a member of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. He and his wife are regular Saturday night patrons of the Trevor Social Center for a weekly card party.

Roy's fairly outspoken in his criticism of the lax standards of today, whether they be on the job or in the home. He takes obvious pride in his work, and in a good job well done. He expects good work and honesty from his postoffice force, and he practices what he preaches.

Roy's been eligible for retirement for some time, but he has no enthusiasm for such a move, at least at the present time. Neither he nor his wife are interested in extended vacation trips. After a virtual lifetime of long hours at the postoffice, he thinks he'd be pretty bored just "sittin' and fishin'" twenty-four hours a day. So, for the present, he's going to keep on at his job of being postmaster. And if you'd like to help him run an efficient office, put the complete address on all your mail and encourage your correspondents to do likewise. The time is past when the postman or route man could know everyone in town.

West Miltmore

By Rosemary Holaday

At last week's meeting of the West Miltmore Women's Club the members looked into the possibility of having a fund-raising luncheon in June to meet their pledge for Countryside Hospital. Because of the small turn-out of members at the meeting, no definite arrangements could be made, but the final details will be presented at the February meeting. It is hoped that more women will take an active interest in the club. As all good organizations, it needs the "active" participation of all its members, not just a few stalwart regulars. An election of officers will also be on the agenda for the next meeting.

The meeting of the West Miltmore Civic Association was much more encouraging. A good number of interested residents came to discuss financing the upkeep of the West Miltmore beach. Mike Eldanzo was at the meeting to represent the Lindenhurst Civic Association and Edward Kostelny represented the Venetian Village Civic Association. It was pointed out that all three of the communities use the beach facilities and it was suggested by Verne Mortensen, West Miltmore Civic Association president, that a six man committee, two from each community, be appointed to find ways and means to meet the responsibilities of the beach maintenance. Figures of beach expenses incurred in 1963 were given to each of the representatives. They, in turn, promised to give this information to their own associations and return to the West Miltmore meeting next month with an answer as to how they will be able to assist in 1964. Much depends on the co-operation of all three communities as to how the beach will be maintained and perhaps even improved during the coming year.

The Lake Villa Lions Club is sponsoring a pancake breakfast at Lake Villa Central School from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sunday, February 2. The breakfast will benefit Countryside Hospital. It will be a good time to get the family out, to meet your friends and neighbors, eat some good pancakes, and help Countryside.

Early County Resident Dies

Henry George Atwell, 84, 100 Cedar Lake Road, died January 19 in his home after a lingering illness.

He was born October 15, 1879, in Somersetshire, England, the son of Walter and Ellen Atwell, who came to the United States when Henry was three years old. Mr. Atwell had lived in the Lake Villa area since that time. He was a dairy farmer and a real estate broker for many years.

On February 21, 1906, he married Helena Sheehan. Camp Morrison
Troop 124

On Friday night we checked in between 5:00 and 5:30. Then we checked our supplies and equipment. We then built a fire. Now it was time for skits, which were about home, health and safety. Then we had snacks and films. Now it was bed time, but we had a buzz session until 10:00.

Camp Morrison
Troop 124

On Saturday morning at 8:00 we were all up. The troop set up the tables. The patrol which was to prepare the breakfast went into the kitchen to cook the meal. We had oatmeal, apples, toast and P.D.Q. Then we cleaned up.

Now we played many games. Then we went to Crockett Lake to skate. It was fun. Mrs. Dederian took some pictures. Then we came back to camp and the patrol who prepared lunch went to fix it. We had P.D.Q. and beans and franks. Then we cleaned up. Now it was time for troop election. Afterwards we had to clean the whole lodge. Now in the free time we were going to play a game. Then we were picked up at 3:00 and 3:30 by our parents.

Pushy Phone Selling Is Sour Note

Selling by telephone is booming—but Illinois Bell is finding a few sour notes on the line—and so are customers.

It all comes about because businessmen know that one of the best ways to cultivate sales is over the telephone. "But, there are good and bad manners in telephone salesmanship—just as in any other business," Dick Miller, Illinois Bell's manager here, says.

Illinois Bell surveys reveal customer complaints usually are the result of sales pitch operators who plod through the telephone directory calling every name they come to, regardless of the hour, and use phony come-ons to arouse the customer's interest.

"Customers don't like this practice and they tell us about it," Miller says. "We don't like it either and have been doing many things to ease the problem and protect the legitimate businessman."

"Illinois Bell's problem is to curtail the 'pushy' telephone salesman without hurting the legitimate and considerate businessmen who sell by telephone."

Illinois Bell takes this stand on telephone selling, Miller says:

1. Encourage telephone selling that meets the customer's acceptance. It strongly discourages the use of the telephone for indiscriminate sales calls where the interest and convenience of the person called are not considered.
2. To encourage firms to use the telephone properly, the company offers special help and training to organizations wanting to improve their telephone selling techniques, and free booklets with selling tips such as: "Building Profits Through Thoughtful Selling by Telephone" and a special "Phono

Power" series, "10 Pitfalls of Selling by Telephone."

"Although Illinois Bell is doing what it can to discourage telephone calls that violate rules of good selling, it can only go so far because of its obligation to provide service to the public," Miller added.

"My number one gripe is being bothered by business firms making a survey, only to discover they are trying to give me a sales pitch."

"I wish there was something the telephone company could do about people who use the phone to sell things."

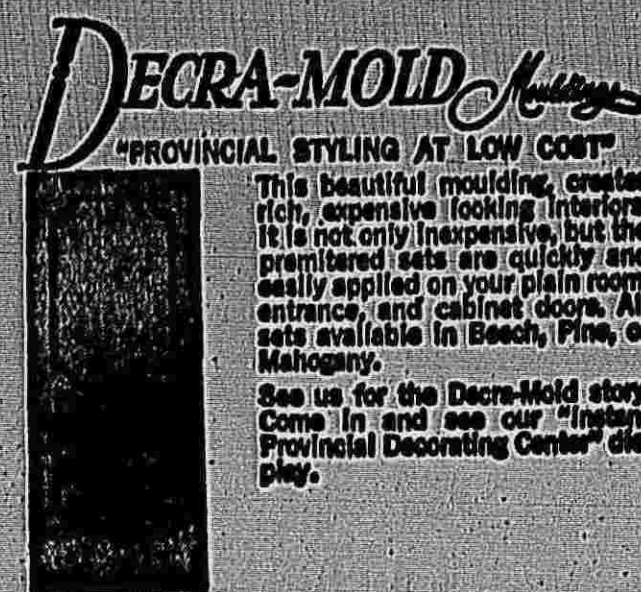

"Customers can do much to help themselves by refusing to answer the question with which some salesmen begin their sales pitch," Miller adds. "A polite refusal and hanging up are still the best way to handle unwanted telephone sales calls."

"But remember—those legitimate sales calls still can be important."

Everybody who wants a Wildcat, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Skylark, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Riviera, please stand up.

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

Really.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class I—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Florida.
